

Content Calendar Planner

A 90-Day System to Plan, Create and Publish
Content That Builds Your Brand and Generates Leads

*The brands that win are not more creative - they are more consistent.
This planner gives you the system to show up every single week.*

Why Content Calendars Fail

Most content calendars die by week two. Not because the creator lacks ideas - but because the system was too rigid, the volume too high, and there was no strategy behind the schedule.

The 3 Reasons Creators Quit

Too many platforms: Spreading thin across 5 channels with no mastery of any.

Creating from scratch daily: No batching, no repurposing - exhausting and unsustainable.

No connection to goals: Posting without knowing what result you are trying to achieve.

A content calendar is a tool, not a prison. Build it to serve your goals - not to impress people who will never see it.

Setting Your 90-Day Content Goals

Before planning a single post, answer these questions. They define your strategy.

90-Day Goal Setting Framework

1. Primary Platform: Which ONE platform will you focus on for the next 90 days?
2. Growth Goal: What follower or reach milestone are you targeting?
3. Revenue Goal: How much revenue should this content contribute to?
4. Lead Goal: How many leads, inquiries, or email subscribers do you want?
5. Content Goal: How many pieces of content will you publish per week?

Write specific numbers. 'Grow my audience' is not a goal. '500 new followers in 90 days' is a goal.

Your Content Pillars & Topic Bank

Content pillars are the 3-4 themes you return to repeatedly. They train your audience on what you are about and make ideation 10x faster.

How to Choose Your Pillars

Pillar 1 - Your Expertise: What you know best. Educational, how-to, tutorial content.

Pillar 2 - Your Story: Your journey, behind the scenes, personal lessons learned.

Pillar 3 - Your Community: Your audience's wins, questions, shared experiences.

Pillar 4 - Your Offers: Products, services, results, testimonials.

The 90-Day Content Calendar Template

Use this structure for each week. Fill it in every Sunday for the coming week.

Weekly Planning Template

- Monday: [Pillar] | [Topic] | [Format: post/reel/story]
- Tuesday: [Pillar] | [Topic] | [Format]
- Wednesday: [Pillar] | [Topic] | [Format]
- Thursday: [Pillar] | [Topic] | [Format]
- Friday: [Pillar] | [Topic] | [Format]
- Weekend: Optional - engagement, stories, or repurposed content

Batch Creation Schedule

- Sunday evening (1 hour): Plan the week. Choose topics, formats, platforms.
- Monday morning (2 hours): Write all captions for the week. Done.
- Monday afternoon (1 hour): Film or design any visuals needed.
- Schedule everything using Buffer, Later, or Metricool.
- Daily (10 minutes): Engage with comments and DMs.

Batching is the single most powerful productivity shift for content creators. Create in bulk, publish consistently.

Content Repurposing System

One idea should become multiple pieces of content across multiple formats. This is how you multiply output without multiplying effort.

The Repurposing Tree

- Long-form video (YouTube/TikTok) -> Cut into 3-5 short clips for Reels/Shorts
- Blog post -> 5 social media posts + 1 email newsletter
- Podcast episode -> Quote graphics + audiogram clips + LinkedIn post
- Instagram carousel -> Twitter/X thread + LinkedIn article
- Client story/testimonial -> Case study post + before/after Reel + email feature

One piece of well-researched content should fuel your calendar for a week. Stop creating new ideas daily - go deeper on fewer ideas.
