

Website Templates Pack

Copy-Paste Frameworks for Landing Pages,
About Pages, Services Pages & More

*You do not need to be a copywriter to have a website that converts.
These templates give you the structure - you fill in your story.*

How to Use This Pack

Each template in this pack is a fill-in-the-blank framework. Replace the bracketed placeholders with your real content. The structure, flow, and persuasion logic is already built in.

The 5-Second Test

A visitor who lands on your page for 5 seconds should be able to answer:

1. What is this?
2. Who is it for?
3. Why should I care?
4. What do I do next?

If your current website fails this test, use these templates to fix it today.

Hero Section Templates

The hero is the first thing visitors see. It must hook them in under 3 seconds or they leave.

Template A - Result-Focused

Headline: [Achieve specific result] in [timeframe] - without [common frustration].

Subheadline: [One sentence describing who you help and how.]

CTA Button: [Action verb] + [what they get] - e.g. 'Get Your Free Strategy' or 'Start Today'

Template B - Problem-Agitation

Headline: Tired of [frustrating problem]?

Subheadline: [Your name/brand] helps [audience] [achieve result] without [sacrifice/pain].

CTA: [Get started / Book a call / Download free guide]

Template C - Bold Statement

Headline: [Bold claim about what you do or what you believe].

Subheadline: [One sentence about who benefits and the transformation.]

CTA: [Action] + social proof line: 'Join [X] [type of people] who already [result].'

About Page Template

Your About page is not about you - it is about making the visitor feel understood. Lead with them, not with your resume.

The Story Structure

1. Start with THEM: Describe the problem or situation your ideal customer faces. Make them feel seen.
2. Enter YOU: Briefly explain who you are and why you care about this problem.
3. The Turning Point: Share a moment that crystallized your mission (a result, failure, discovery).
4. What You Do Now: Clear statement of how you help people and what outcomes they get.
5. The Proof: 2-3 credibility markers (clients served, years of experience, results achieved).
6. The CTA: What should they do next? One clear action.

Example: 'If you are a [type of person] trying to [goal] but stuck on [obstacle], you are in the right place. I have helped [X] people go from [before] to [after]. Here is how I can help you too.'

Services / Products Page Template

Each service or product listing should answer: What is it? Who is it for? What do they get? What happens next?

Service Card Template

Service Name: [Clear, outcome-focused name]

Who It Is For: [Specific audience with specific problem]

What You Get: [3-5 bullet points - tangible deliverables or outcomes]

Investment: [Price or 'Starting at...']

CTA: [Book a Call / Get Started / Apply Now]

Product Listing Template

Product Name: [Name]

What It Is: [One sentence - what it is and what problem it solves]

What Is Inside: [Bullet list of what they receive]

Who It Is Best For: [Describe the ideal buyer]

Price: $[X]

CTA: [Buy Now / Download Now / Get Instant Access]

FAQ Section Template

A strong FAQ section removes objections before they become reasons not to buy. Address the real hesitations your customers have.

Universal Questions to Include

- How does this work? (Process clarity)
- How long until I see results? (Expectation setting)
- Is this right for me? (Qualification filter)
- What if I am not satisfied? (Risk reduction)
- How is this different from [alternative]? (Competitive differentiation)
- What do I need to get started? (Barrier removal)

CTA (Call-to-Action) Templates

Weak CTAs kill conversions. Every page needs exactly one primary CTA. Make it clear, specific, and low-friction.

High-Converting CTA Formulas

- Action + Outcome: 'Download Your Free Guide' - not just 'Download'.
- Action + Speed: 'Get Instant Access' - removes the fear of a long process.
- Action + Specificity: 'Book My Free 30-Minute Strategy Call' - specific beats generic.
- Risk Reversal CTA: 'Start Free - No Credit Card Required'.
- Urgency CTA: 'Claim Your Spot - Only [X] Left'.

One page. One CTA. The more options you give, the fewer actions they take. This is called the paradox of choice.
